Introduction

Who is this book for?

This book has been written for anyone working, or planning to work, in the leisure, travel and tourism industry, and who wants to develop their vocabulary for this line of work. The various exercises throughout the book focus on the key vocabulary that you would expect to understand and use on a day-to-day basis.

How should you use the book?

When you use this book, you should not go through the exercises mechanically. It is better to choose areas that you are unfamiliar with, or areas that you feel are of specific interest or importance to yourself.

The exercises are accompanied by a full answer key at the back of the book. This key also gives you lots of other information that might be useful to you, as well as providing other words (opposites, alternative words, etc) that are not covered in the exercises themselves. There are also some tasks that will give you the opportunity to practise using the vocabulary in context.

It is important to record new words and expressions that you learn. Try to develop your own personal vocabulary 'bank' in a notebook or file. Review the words and expressions on a regular basis so that they become an active part of your vocabulary.

The following books were consulted during the writing of this book, and you might find them useful if you want to find out more about leisure, travel and tourism. The vocabulary covered in this book is not completely exhaustive, so you will also find these sources very helpful if you want to develop your travel vocabulary further:

- Dictionary of Leisure, Travel and Tourism (Bloomsbury Publishing, 0-7475-7222-4)
- Dictionary of Travel, Tourism and Hospitality (S. Medlik, Butterworth Heinemann, 0-7506-5650-6)
- Tourism Management (Stephen J Page, Butterworth Heinemann, 0-7506-5752-9)
- An Introduction to Tourism (Leonard J Lickorish and Carson L Jenkins, Elsevier, 0-7506-1956-2)
- In Search of Hospitality (Edited by Conrad Lashley and Alison Morrison, Butterworth Heinemann, 0-7506-5431-7)
- The International Hospitality Industry (Edited by Bob Brotherton, Butterworth Heinemann, 0-7506-5295-0)
- Check your Vocabulary series (various authors, Bloomsbury)

The author also made use of a large range of travel- and tourism-related websites on the Internet, as well as holiday brochures and other information freely available from travel agencies and tour operators.

1. The _____ we stayed at was right by the beach. It had three bedrooms (all en-suite), a beautiful living / dining room, a huge kitchen, front, back and roof gardens and its own swimming pool.
2. The _____ we stayed at when we went skiing in Austria had two double bedrooms, a large living room with open fireplace, a small kitchen and terraces at the front and back with fantastic views over the Alps.
3. It's on the fourth floor. It has two twin rooms, a living room with a Murphy, a small kitchen, a wonderful bathroom with a spa bath, and a small balcony overlooking the swimming pool.
4. David and Buddug Evans are delighted to invite visitors to spend a long weekend in 'Green Briars', the most delightful _____ in Llandudno. Join us for delicious home cooking, traditional comfort and a real Welsh welcome!
5. The 'Ball and Chain' is probably the most exciting and interesting _____ to open in London this year. Not only is it set in the former Chingwall prison, with single, twin and double accommodation in the old cells, but all the fascinating artwork has been done by prisoners in real prisons around the country. Outstanding levels of comfort and service are guaranteed.
6. Driving when tired is one of the most common causes of accidents, so why not break your journey at the Crossways _____. Situated on the A542 between Bunnyhutch and Birdiebath, we offer a choice of comfortable rooms, including three large family rooms, two restaurants and a bar. Ample, secure parking is also provided.
7. For people who want hotel comfort without all the hotel facilities, the _____ is probably the most suitable type of hotel accommodation. No restaurants, no bars, no pools or tennis courts, just simple, comfortable rooms.
8. If you're looking for good, cheap accommodation and don't mind sharing, I'd recommend 'Backpackers' _____ on Wytham View Street. There are three dormitories, each with 12 bunk beds, a café that serves hot drinks and good breakfasts, and the hottest showers in town! The warden is really friendly, too.
9. 'The Moathouse', a _____ outside Derringly, has been designed specifically for businessmen and women visiting the area. Accommodation is in small studio rooms which come with all the necessities for the busy business person. These include complete telephone and Internet facilities, mobile charge points, tea and coffee making facilities and fully soundproofed rooms for a good night's rest.
10. In some cities, long-stay visitors can take advantage of _____. Accommodation is in rooms or suites, each with their own kitchen and bathroom. Normal hotel services are provided, but this type of accommodation generally offers more space and flexibility than a standard hotel.

11. For visitors with healthy bank accounts, we recommend the Tam'al Dhobi, a _____ on the banks of the river. All rooms are beautifully appointed with king size beds, full bar facilities and stunning views over the river and surrounding desert. Each room even has its own butler, who will take care of your every need.
12. Holidaymakers on package holidays are usually accommodated in fairly basic (2-star) _____. The advantage of these, of course, is that they are cheap. On the other hand, they are not always comfortable, and can often be in noisy or busy surroundings. They also try to put as many guests as possible into one room: triple rooms with space-saving sofa beds, rollaways and Z-beds are common.

Exercise 2

Look at the descriptions of different accommodation types in exercise 1, and find words which mean:

1. A double bed which is longer and wider than usual.
2. A series of hotel rooms (bedroom, living room, etc) with connecting doors.
3. Two beds, one on top of the other.
4. A hotel room with two small beds (to accommodate two people).
5. A hotel room with one small bed (to accommodate one person).
6. A bed that can be used as a sofa during the day.
7. A bed that folds into a cupboard or the wall during the day.
8. A hotel room with one large bed.
9. A large room with several beds.
10. A hotel room with its own bathroom attached.
11. A small room containing a bed that converts to a sofa during the day.
12. A hotel room with one large bed and two small beds (to accommodate four people).

Exercise 3

The word tariff refers to the different rates of costs / charges in hotels and other temporary accommodation.

Match the names of the tariffs in the first box with their description in the second box. In most cases, more than one tariff can be used for each description.

British and American English

British people and people from North America (the USA and Canada) often use different words to express the same idea. Sentences 1 - 12 below all have words which are specific to British-English in bold. Replace them with American-English words, which you will find by reading from left to right (⇒) and from right to left (⇐) in the box below. These words are not in the same order as those in the sentences.

C. Now look at this report of a journey and fill in the gaps with one of the words or expressions from Tasks A and B. In some cases, more than one answer may be possible. You may need to change some of the word forms.

We began our journey in the country's 1. _____, Trinfuegos, a 2. _____ conurbation of almost ten million. It is not a pretty place: heavily 3. _____, with huge factories belching out black fumes, and miles of 4. _____ as housing estates and shopping centres spread out from the 5. _____ centre for miles. It was a relief to leave.

As soon as we got into the countryside, things improved considerably. The climate is hot and dry and it is difficult to grow anything, but thanks to 6. _____, which helps bring water in from the Rio Cauto (the huge river with its 7. _____ high up in the snow-covered 8. _____ of the Sierra Maestra 9. _____), the land is fertile enough to grow the sugar cane on which much of the economy is based. We saw few people, however, as many have moved to the towns and cities to look for more profitable work. It is largely due to this rural 10. _____ that agriculture in the area is suffering.

Further south, and we entered the Holguin 11. _____, with mountains rising high above us on both sides. The land here drops sharply to the sea and the slow-moving waters of the Rio Cauto give way to 12. _____ which tumble over cliffs, and small, fast-moving 13. _____ which are not even wide enough to take a boat. At this point, the road we were travelling along became a 14. _____, which was only just wide enough for our jeep, and then an unpaved 15. _____ which almost shook it to pieces.

And then suddenly we turned a corner and the Pacific 16. _____ was in front of us. Our destination was the town of Santiago de Gibara, built on a 17. _____ sticking out into the blue waters. The countryside here undulates gently, with low 18. _____ covered in rich tropical jungle. The open 19. _____ surrounding the 20. _____ of the Rio Cauto as it reaches the ocean is rich and 21. _____, ideal for growing the tobacco plants which need a lot of warm, damp soil.

That night I lay in my cheap hotel, listening to the 22. _____ gently lapping the sandy 23. _____, and when I eventually fell asleep, I dreamed of the people who had first inhabited this 24. _____ almost two thousand years before.

1. A camera, a guidebook, a hat to protect me from the sun, a pair of glasses to protect my eyes from UV rays, and a comfortable pair of shoes.
2. A helmet, a very strong length of elastic, a bridge or a crane, good insurance and lots of courage!
3. The best tackle I can afford (I insist on using the best rods, reels and lines available), plenty of bait, a net and a boat.
4. Definitely a swimming costume, and maybe a pair of goggles, a pair of flippers and a snorkel. Armbands and rubber rings for the children.
5. A swimming costume, a pair of sunglasses, plenty of high-factor sunscreen, a towel to lie on, a parasol and a pair of sandals or flip flops so that I can walk around from time to time. Oh, and somebody to bring me lots of ice-cold drinks.
6. A wetsuit, a mask, a pair of flippers, gloves, an oxygen tank and a PADI-qualified buddy.
7. A good off-road vehicle or other RV, a map, a walkie-talkie so that I can keep in touch with the other drivers, a valid driving licence and a sense of adventure!
8. A pair of very comfortable walking shoes, a map, a hat or cap, waterproofs in case it rains, a compass so that I know which direction I'm going in, a water bottle and a good picnic.
9. A racquet, some balls, a court (grass or hard), an umpire to settle any arguments and a partner who isn't as good as me!
10. A set of clubs, plenty of balls, a course (of course), a caddy if I can afford one and a partner with roughly the same handicap.
11. A helmet, a good strong rope, gloves or chalk for my hands, boots, crampons, a reliable safety harness, a pick, a firm grip, a good sense of balance and a head for heights.

12. A lifejacket, waterproofs, a yacht, a strong breeze and some good seasickness pills.
13. Goggles or sunglasses, two strong poles, plenty of warm clothing (preferably waterproof), boots, a really good piste and a cable-car or chair lift to take me to the top. Have I forgotten anything?
14. A helmet, some really tight, colourful clothes, sunglasses or goggles, a water bottle that be attached to the handlebars, a pump, a puncture repair kit and of course a really good pair of wheels.
15. A smart dress for me, a jacket and tie for my husband, plenty of money or a credit card, and a big appetite!
16. Casually smart , comfortable clothes, comfortable shoes (although the fashion these days is to go barefoot), plenty of money for drinks (which are always expensive in places like this) and lots and lots of stamina so that I can keep going until the early hours!
17. When I travel, I always take my SLR, a tripod, a wide-angle and a telephoto lens, a flashgun, filters and several rolls of fast film. Sometimes I just take my digital point-and-shoot.

Look at the descriptions again, and underline the words and expressions that helped you to decide what the activities were in each one.

Exercise 2

Look at these dictionary definitions. Each one describes a piece of equipment that you need for doing different activities. Each one was mentioned in Exercise 1. Without looking back at the exercise, how many can you name?

1. Close-fitting glasses worn to protect your eyes.
2. A solid hat, used as protection.
3. Light shoes with an open top, made of straps.
4. Cream you put on your skin to prevent it being sunburnt.
5. Clothing that is made of material that does not let water through.
6. Long flat pieces of rubber which you attach to your feet to help you swim faster.
7. Strong shoes which cover your feet and go above your ankles.
8. Equipment used for fishing.
9. An air-filled or cork-filled coat to help you float in water.
10. A round, air-filled belt that children use to help them float in water (usually used before they can swim)
11. A portable two-way radio.
12. Rubber clothes worn by swimmers and divers to keep themselves warm in the water.
13. Clothing worn on your hands (to protect them from the cold, or to protect them from being hurt)
14. A drawing which shows a place such as a town or a country, as it is seen from the air.

Also see Travel items and equipment on page 47.

Idioms 2

Read the paragraphs below, and match the idioms in bold with the definitions on the next page.

A.

You should always read between the lines when you look in a holiday brochure. I chose a hotel that was described as being in a quiet location a stone's throw from the beach. That was true to a certain extent, but really they were pulling a fast one. You see, the hotel was in the back of beyond, and it was on a cliff looking down at the beach two hundred feet below! The only place to go in the evening was the hotel bar, and that was a pick-up joint.

B.

The brochure told me that the hotel was the best in the area, but to be honest it fell short of my expectations. First of all you had to pay through the nose for food and service which wasn't really up to the mark, and secondly, the manager was a real misery guts who complained all the time and kept laying down the law ('Don't leave your window open, Don't smoke in your room, Don't make any noise after 10pm, and so on). I met someone who used to stay at the hotel, but he told me it had gone to the dogs since a new company had taken it over.

C.

Prices for long-haul flights are usually a bit steep. However, competition between airlines has brought prices down recently, and if you shop around you can usually get a good deal, especially if you go to a bucket shop or search on the Internet. I managed to get a cut-price flight to Perth - £350 return! - but the flight left London at an unearthly hour and went round the houses (we flew via Dubai, Karachi, Colombo, Kuala Lumpur and Jakarta.) before we reached our destination!

D.

We had a guest staying at our hotel last week. She was a very tough customer, always complaining and picking holes in everything. Anyway, when she checked out, she demanded a refund, but our manager calmly and politely explained that this was out of the question. She flew off the handle, told him to pull his socks up, and stormed out of the hotel without paying! It's bad enough when you get a skipper, but when housekeeping went to clean her room, we also discovered she had nicked the towels!

E.

I really recommend the restaurant on the corner. You always get your money's worth. The grub is good and plentiful, and the house plonk is cheap'n'cheerful (although it might take the skin off your teeth). The place is popular with the natives, so that's a good sign.

F.

The Aphrodite Hotel in Kyrenia is out of this world, and if you stay there you'll know that you're in good hands. When I was there, the staff went out of their way to make me feel welcome, and the manager fell over himself to make sure everything was perfect. He knew I was dog-tired when I arrived, so asked all his staff to keep the noise down, and of course I slept like a log!

Restaurants and bars

Read this passage, and match the names of the restaurants and bars in bold with the type of establishment they are on the next page.

There are lots of different places where you can eat in my home town. I'd like to tell you about some of them.

Let's start with the High Street, which has the highest concentration of restaurants in town. First of all, at number 7 you will find 'Wok and Roll', which specialises in food from Beijing and Canton. You can't actually eat your food here, but they put your food in special containers that keep it hot until you get it home. Next door at number 9 is 'Curry in a Hurry', the best place in town for spicy dishes from south Asia. Opposite, at number 11, is 'Wetback's', which does excellent fajitas, burritos, quesadillas and chillis, and two doors further down is 'Frank's Plaice', which does lovely crispy battered cod and haddock in the good old traditional British style. There's also 'The Big Munch' nearby. This place is fine if you are in a hurry and need something quick to eat, but I personally wouldn't touch their burgers, fries and fried chicken without really good insurance: their food hygiene record is really terrible! However, if you like good (and safe!) American food, check out 'Souperman', which is behind the supermarket. There are only six tables, so get there early. Great State-side cooking, and really friendly service.

At the end of the street, there's a new Spanish place, 'Bar Celona'; as the name suggests, it's a bar rather than a restaurant, but you can get lots of small dishes to eat while you drink. If you want a proper sit-down Spanish meal, try 'Alhambra' nearby. Their paella and gazpacho are particularly good. Directly opposite is 'Wasabi-Go!', which is a great place if you like Japanese-style raw fish; their nigiri and temaki are the best I've ever tasted! Also on the High Street, you'll find the Westbridge Shopping Centre, and on the first floor you'll find 'Tastes'. This is the perfect place to eat if you've been shopping in the centre, as there are lots of different outlets selling different kinds of cooked food; you buy what you like and then eat in a central seating area. The food is good and cheap, and there is a huge variety.

Denmark Street is at the end of High Street. There are no restaurants here, but 'The Red Lion' is a great place for a drink before or after dinner. It's very traditional: no jukebox, no fruit machines and absolutely no big-screen television. Oh, and the beer there is out of this world.

Go to the end of Denmark Street, and you'll get to Mill Street. There are several more places to eat here, starting with 'Mamma Mia's' at number 4: when it comes to the perfect pizza, the chef in this restaurant knows the importance of having a really good thin and crispy base and fresh toppings. If you like Italian food, you could also try 'Pasta Master' at number 8. Their speciality is pasta, of course, but they also do wonderful meat, including a veal dish which is, er, veally good. Ha ha! For those who prefer French food, you have 'Aux Trois Cloches' at number 6. This is a small, informal, friendly place with good tasty cooking at very reasonable prices. If you have money to burn, you could try the much more formal 'Le Poisson d'Or' at number 18 (although be warned, even the starters won't cost you less than £20 each, and the waiters are a bit snobby, especially the sommelier and the Maitre d'. And they won't let you in without a jacket and tie).

Mill Street leads to Venice Square, and there are a few more places here. For a traditional British roast dinner, I would recommend 'Silverthorne's'. You help yourself to a selection of vegetables and sauces or gravies from a buffet, and then a chef cuts you a portion of beef or lamb. For something equally British but less extravagant, you might like to try 'Rosie Lee's' for a nice cup of tea and a slice of cake (or you could try their wonderful cream teas). On the other side of the square is 'Jimmy's', where you can get things like pies, sandwiches and light meals. The best place to eat here, however, is 'The George and Dragon'. This used to be a terrible place: warm beer, the stink of cigarette smoke, fights on a Saturday night. Then two years ago it was bought by a professional chef and he's turned it round completely. You can still drink here, but there's now also a restaurant section serving superb food. Last month the chef received his first Michelin star!

The station is just behind Venice Square. If you're waiting for a train and you're hungry, you could go to 'Choo-Choo's', which is in the station itself. However, unless you like stale pork pies, sandwiches that curl at the corners and coffee that tastes like mud, I would avoid this place.

Types of tourism

Decide what kinds of tourism are being described, and write the answers in the grid. If you do this correctly, you will reveal another type of tourism in the shaded vertical strip (to help you, the first letter and last letter of each word are already in the grid).

- Robert's travel company specialises in tourism that tries not to have an adverse effect on the places that its customers visit.
- The travel company that Olivia works for only provides holidays for people who want to visit other countries, and not stay in their own country.
- Rebecca's company offers trips to travellers who want to meet and observe indigenous people in their native locations.
- If you're interested in visiting castles, other old buildings and famous historical sights, the agency that Harry works for would be ideal.
- Have you been feeling under the weather recently? Whether you want a month in a spa, or just a few days breathing clean mountain air, Harriet's tour company will get you back in the pink again!
- Fed up with the beach? Can't face another skiing holiday? Well, what about a week on a farm instead? Andy's Tours has a wide range of cottages, caravans and other accommodation in some of the country's most beautiful locations.
- Bert's tour operator provides transport, accommodation and other travel services for some of the biggest companies in the country.
- Hilda's Holidays has some of the loudest, liveliest and most exciting resorts available. Why spend a fortnight sitting on a beach when you can spend it drinking yourself under the table?!
- Ian's company provides accommodation, transport and tours for visitors coming from outside the country.
- If you want to visit some of the world's most important holy places, Rachel's company is the one to have faith in.
- Many companies like to reward their employees for working hard and getting good results. Some of them use Imogen's tour operator to book holidays and trips for their best staff to say 'Thank you for all your good work'.

"I asked for it to be well-done, but this is rare. In fact, it's almost raw!"
His food has been _____.

Situation 2: The same customer is talking to the waiter again:
"I think there's a mistake on my bill. I didn't order half of these things".
He has been _____.

Situation 3: An airline passenger is at the airport:
"We were supposed to take off an hour ago. I keep checking the boards for information, but all it says is 'Wait in lounge'."
Her flight has been _____.

Situation 4: An airline passenger is talking to a member of the airline's ground-crew staff:
"Look, I've got two baggage checks, so where's my second item? I've been waiting here for half an hour and it hasn't come through on the luggage carousel."
Some of his luggage has been _____.

Situation 5: A tourist is talking to a police officer:
"I was walking back to my hotel when someone hit me on the head and stole my wallet"
The tourist has been _____.

Situation 6: A hotel receptionist is talking to a customer.
"I'm sorry, madam, I don't know how it happened, but it looks like the room you reserved has been given to someone else".
The customer's room has been _____.

Situation 7: A train passenger is complaining to a member of railway staff.
"Your ticket booking office told me that the train leaves at nine o'clock every morning, but when I got to the station, I discovered it leaves at half past eight".
The passenger has been _____.

Situation 8: An airline passenger is calling her family from an aircraft phone.

"We can't land at O'Hare because of the snow, so they're flying us on to Des Moines and then putting us on a bus".

The passenger's flight has been _____ because of bad weather.

Situation 9: A passenger in a taxi is complaining to the driver.

"According to your meter, the fare from the airport is €18. I gave you a €50 note, and you've only given me €20 back."

The taxi driver has _____ his passenger.

Situation 10: A woman is at the doctor.

"I'm getting continual stomach cramps, I've got awful diarrhoea and I can't stop vomiting. It must have been the shellfish I had for dinner last night. I thought it tasted strange"

The woman has been _____ by eating bad seafood.

Situation 11: A customer in a bar is talking to the barman.

"I only put the mobile down on the table for a few moments, and when I next looked it had gone. Are you sure you didn't see anything?"

The customer's mobile phone has (probably) been _____.

Situation 12: A man is at the chemist.

"I didn't realise how strong the sun was. I fell asleep, and when I woke up I was red and sore from head to toe. Can you give me something to help it?"

He has been _____ by the sun.

Situation 13: A hotel guest is talking to the hotel manager.

"When I got back to my room, I discovered that my safe had been broken into, and my passport and money stolen".

The guest's hotel room has been _____.

Situation 14: A hotel guest is complaining to the hotel's laundry manager.

"This suit was in perfect condition when I gave it to you to be washed. Now there are three buttons missing and a large tear in one of the jacket sleeves".

The guest's suit has been _____.

Situation 15: An airline passenger is talking to the check-in assistant.

"I have a valid ticket for this flight, and I'm in plenty of time to check in, so why are you telling me there are no seats available?"

The passenger has been _____ by the airline.

What is their job 1?

Read these descriptions given by people working in jobs related to the travel, tourism and entertainment industry. Can you work out what their jobs are from some of the key words and phrases they use?

1. People call us trolley dollies, but we do much more than just feed people and give them drinks. For a start, we need to make sure that everyone has fastened their safety belt and that their seats are in the upright position before we take-off. We are responsible for demonstrating the safety procedures, and for making sure that people obey the rules during the flight. If there's an accident, we need to make sure that everyone gets out.
2. It's not so bad with small groups, but with big groups it can get really confusing, especially if the place we're visiting is very busy. People might accidentally join another group, or wander off to take a photograph and then get lost, and I spend all my time running around looking for them, waving my umbrella in the air. Most people are attentive and well-behaved, but some don't listen and then ask really stupid questions, or interrupt you to say 'But my guidebook says.....'.
3. It's usually quiet until the second sitting at 8 o'clock, then things get really busy. On some nights, there can be as many as 50 covers. There's always so much to remember: who ordered what, whether they wanted still or sparkling water, whether they wanted the meat done rare or medium, was it the house red or the Pinot Noir they wanted, who had the allergy to nuts, who couldn't eat cheese, and so on. And then there are the complainers to deal with. For them, things are always too hot, too cold, overcooked, undercooked, arrived too late, too early or not at all, etc.
4. After receiving our briefing and route, we meet the cabin crew. The first officer and I do a 360 degree outside check, then board and run another complete check on the flight deck. We wait for instructions from the tower, and as soon as we have our slot, we push-back from the terminal building. We taxi across the apron towards the runway and join the queue of others waiting for clearance to take off. Minutes later, we're off the ground and on our way.
5. The job is very routine. We cross-check people's tickets with the information on the computer, then look at their passports to make sure they are who they say they are. We ask them how many items of baggage they have (we need to know what is going in the hold and what they are taking on as hand baggage), whether they packed them themselves, whether they are carrying any sharp or illegal objects in their hand baggage, and whether anyone could have interfered with their bags. We then ask them if they have a seat preference - window or aisle - give them their boarding cards and tell them which gate to go to.
6. Most people want a simple package tour, and come to us for a brochure. Of course, we do a lot more than just hand out brochures. We book holidays, look for the cheapest flights, check accommodation availability, confirm bookings, sell traveller's cheques, foreign currency and insurance, make recommendations and suggestions and generally answer people's travel enquiries. We also have several corporate clients who use us for their business trips. We're a member of ABTA, and have ATOL, by the way, so you know you're in good hands.
7. My duties include meeting our customers at the airport and making them feel welcome, accompanying them to their accommodation and giving them some basic information to familiarise them with their surroundings. The next day, I meet them to tell them about the area, and also to tell them about some of the things they can do and places they can visit. I try to sell them tours, but a lot of people (especially the more independent travellers) tend to make their own arrangements. I also deal with customers' problems as they arise.

8. I really enjoy my job. I'm quite a sociable person, so it gives me the chance to meet a lot of people. Of course, when things get really busy, I just say 'What can I get you?' or 'Would you like ice and lemon with that?', so the conversation isn't always so great. Sometimes, people have a bit too much and get drunk, which is OK unless they get aggressive too, and start fights. I'm on my feet most of the time, so after a hard night's work I can be absolutely exhausted. Oh, and the money is terrible, but I sometimes get good tips from the customers.
 9. I don't usually talk to the fares I pick up at the rank, but occasionally I get a friendly or talkative customer. Mind you, it can be a bit distracting if I'm trying to concentrate on the road, especially during rush hour, and there's someone in the back seat chatting away. I don't really mind, though, especially if they give me a good tip.
 10. For some people, I'm an essential part of their entertainment experience, to others I'm just a noise (sometimes a rather irritating noise!) in the background. But I like to think that most people enjoy having a nice tune going on in the background, something they can hum or even sing along to while they sip their cocktail. I get requests, as well, so my repertoire of 500 songs can really come in handy. I don't sing along, though, as I have a terrible singing voice. In fact, I'm almost completely tone deaf!
 11. My beat is usually from eight a.m. to 4 p.m. . I spend most of my time on my feet, so at the end of the day I'm quite exhausted. My duties are quite varied, and range from keeping an eye out for pickpockets, ticket touts, dishonest taxi drivers and other rip-off merchants to dealing with tourists who have been victims of crime, and occasionally dealing with a case of shoplifting. The most important thing is to remain highly visible at all times (the uniform helps, of course), so that the bad guys keep away and the tourists can see I'm there to help them if they have problems.
 12. A lot of people are happy to spend their days lounging by the pool, but quite a few actually want to do something, so that's where I come in. A typical day goes like this: at nine, I do a session of pool aerobics, then at ten there's beach volleyball, followed by face painting for the children. After lunch, I give a cooking demonstration and this is followed by some silly games on the beach, which are great fun for adults and children. In the late afternoon, I take the guests on a walk to a nearby village, where we all have a drink. In the evening, there's usually karaoke, a casino night or a disco to organise.
 13. After collecting their things from the carousel, most people go through the green channel: very few go through the red channel, even if they're over the limit on their duty free allowance. It's my job to stop anyone who's trying to get through without paying the relevant import duty. It's also my job to make sure that people don't bring anything illegal into the country. This includes drugs, firearms and explosives. You would be amazed at the things people do to try to smuggle things into the country; last week we stopped someone with twenty gold watches hidden in an artificial leg!

What is their job 2?: Hotel staff

Read this description of a hotel, and match the names of the people in bold with their jobs on the next page.

Hello, and welcome to Eynsham Towers International Hotel. My name's Lisa Apps, and I'm responsible for the successful running of the hotel. Let me take you round and introduce you to the rest of the staff.

Let's begin at the front. The man standing by the entrance in the uniform and funny hat is Richard Taylor. When guests arrive, he's usually the first person they meet. He'll open your taxi door for you, then welcome you into the hotel. The young man standing next to him is Geoff Walton, who will carry your bags in and up to your room. The other young man with them is Mark Adamson. If you arrive in your own vehicle, he'll take your keys and park up for you. To tell you the truth, he's a terrible driver: I certainly wouldn't trust him with my Ferrari!

All right, let's go inside. The man behind the desk by the door is Brian Richards. If you want to book a taxi, get tickets for a show, hire a tour guide or anything like that, you should talk to him. The woman behind the desk at the back of the foyer is Jane Byrne. She's the person who checks guests in, gives them their keys, takes messages for them, and so on. Next to her is Jack Grant. He's the person that guests pay when they leave, and he'll also change traveller's cheques or get you cash on your credit or debit card. The woman behind the desk to your right is Imogen Bradley: if guests want to book an air or train ticket, make a reservation at another hotel somewhere else or even book a full package holiday, they can speak to her.

Let's go through this door. We're now in housekeeping, and this is Emma Ranscombe, one of the people who cleans the rooms, makes the beds, provides guests with sheets, clean towels, toiletries and so on. The next door takes us through to the administration office, where I work. The young lady sitting at that desk deals with all my correspondence and helps me out with general duties; her name's Felicity Mills. Over there by the window is Jennifer Bryant. Our hotel has facilities for business meetings and so on, and it's her job to organise these for the companies who use this facility. The man at the other desk is Robin Buxton, who is in charge of the hotel finances. Hi, Robin. Is that a new Rolex you're wearing? Very nice.

OK, let's go into the restaurant. It's really busy at the moment because we've just started lunch. This is the person who is responsible for the successful running of the restaurant: Roger Samson. Good morning, Roger. The two people over there are Maria Wade and Peter Mann, who take customers orders and serve their food. The man standing by the bar with the big red nose is Martin Blackwell. He's our resident wine expert, and he will help you to choose the perfect bottle of wine to go with your meal. And this young lady is Kitty Hannah. She meets customers when they come in and takes them to their table. She also adds up the customers' bills. Hello, Kitty.

Finally, let's go through to the kitchen. It's hot and noisy, isn't it? Right, well, the woman stirring that big pot is Hilary Eccleston, and she's one of the people who assists the man over there shouting at everyone. His name's Gordon Rhodes-Thomson, and he is in charge of the kitchen. Good morning, Gordon, how are things going? I beg your pardon? Well, really! The same to you. Finally, the young man washing the plates and glasses is Laurence Bailey. Uh, Laurence, that glass you just dropped is coming out of your wages, lad.

In a taxi	•	In a theatre	•	In an Internet café

1. (On the phone)
Speaker 1: I'd like to order some food, please.
Speaker 2: Certainly, madam. I'll put you through to room service.
Speaker 1: Oh, and I don't seem to have any towels.
Speaker 2: I'll get housekeeping to send some up. Room 501, isn't it?
2. (Notice) This is a residential district. In the interest of our neighbours, customers are politely requested to keep noise to a minimum when leaving this establishment.
3. All passengers are requested to assemble at the muster point on deck level 3 for a lifeboat drill at half past ten. The pool, bars and restaurants will be closed for the duration of the drill. Please ensure that your cabin doors are securely locked and windows or portholes closed during the drill.
4. Speaker 1: How many bags?
Speaker 2: Just the suitcase to check in. And one piece of hand baggage.
Speaker 1: Did you pack the case yourself?
Speaker 2: I did.
Speaker 1: And could anyone have interfered with the bag since then?
5. Speaker 1: Good evening, sir. How many?
Speaker 2: Four, but I don't have a reservation.
Speaker 1: That's no problem. Would you like smoking or no smoking?
Speaker 2: I don't mind. Actually, would it be possible to seat us on the terrace?
6. I must ask everyone to stay inside the vehicle, and try not to make too much noise. These animals are wild, remember, and can be very dangerous. We've arrived at the busiest time of the day for spotting wildlife, so there's plenty of activity. You can see two hippos on the far side of the water hole, and....
7. Speaker 1: Could you put your seat up please, madam? We're landing shortly.
Speaker 2: Oh, right.
Speaker 1: And fold your table away as well. And raise the window blind?
8. Speaker 1: I'd like two for tonight's performance, please.
Speaker 2: We've got seats in the stalls for £20, or in the circle for £15.
Speaker 1: Can you see the stage all right from the circle?
9. Your lifejacket is situated under your seat. In the event of an emergency landing on water, place it over your head, and tie the strings around your waist. To inflate it, pull the orange toggle. There is a tube to help keep it fully inflated, a light, and a whistle for attracting attention....

10. Speaker 1: Thank you. What's the fare?
Speaker 2: That's £8.20.
Speaker 1: Here's £10. Keep the change.
11. Speaker 1: Summertown, please.
Speaker 2: Single or return?
Speaker 1: Return.
Speaker 2: That's £1.20.
Speaker 1: Here you are. Could you tell me when we get there please?
12. Speaker 1: A pint of Spitfire and a dry white wine please. Do you serve food?
Speaker 2: We do. There's a list on the board by the door. Find a table, then give me your order when you're ready Speaker 1: That's great, thanks.
13. Speaker 1: Excuse me, I asked for well done, and this is rare.
Speaker 2: I'm sorry, madam. I'll ask the chef to put it under the grill a bit longer.
14. (On a notice): ½ hour: €1. 1 hour: €1.50. Printing; 10C per sheet. Please be careful not to spill food or drink on the keyboards. Smoking is strictly prohibited.
15. Directly in front of you are two columns, one with a statue of Saint Mark and one with a statue of Saint Theodore. Ahead and on your left is the famous Doge's Palace. Directly to our left is Saint Mark's Basilica, and the campanile on your right, which was completely rebuilt after it collapsed, can be climbed for a marvellous view of the city.
16. Speaker 1: Day return for one car and five passengers, please.
Speaker 2: If you leave on the next sailing, that will be £65. It's the peak hour, you see. The sailing after that is off-peak and will only cost you £30. You'll have to wait about an hour.
Speaker 1: OK, we'll take the second sailing. Is there somewhere here we can get a coffee?
Speaker 2: There's a café on the far side of the harbour.
17. Speaker 1: Two adults and two children please.
Speaker 2: That's £7 please. Would you like a guide? They're free.
Speaker 1: Yes please. We're particularly interested in the Egyptian section. Where is that?
Speaker 2: On this floor, go past the gift shop and the portrait gallery and turn left just before you get to the natural history section.
18. Speaker 1: How much do the deckchairs cost?
Speaker 2: €2 per hour, or €10 for the whole day. Umbrellas are €1 per hour or €5 for the day.
19. Speaker 1: What would you recommend with that, the Chablis or the Riesling?
Speaker 2: I'll get the sommelier for you sir.
Speaker 1: Thank you. And could we have some water?
Speaker 2: Certainly. Still or sparkling?
20. Speaker 1: Please take off your coat and remove all metallic objects from your pocket.
Speaker 2: And take off my watch?
Speaker 1: Yes please. You can put everything in one of these trays.

1. Hello everyone, this is your captain speaking. Well, we're making good progress despite a strong headwind and yesterday's storm. Sailing conditions are generally much calmer today, but things might get a bit choppy later this evening when we enter the Kalamar Straits. Winds are southerly, force 3 to 4, and there's a good chance...
2. Speaker 1: Window or aisle?
Speaker 2: Aisle, please.
Speaker 1: There you are. 25C. Your gate number is 80. Watch the screens for a boarding time.
3. Speaker 1: Good afternoon, madam. Do you have a reservation?
Speaker 2: Yes, a double for two nights. The name's Gruchy.
Speaker 1: Thank you, Ms Gruchy. Here's your key. Take the lift to the third floor. The porter will bring your bags.
4. (On a sign) Guests are reminded that they should check out by midday on the day they leave.
5. Speaker 1: How do I get on-line?
Speaker 2: Well, first of all you need to enter the password we gave you, then click on 'New user', and then double-click on the 'Wannasurf' icon on the left of your screen.
6. Speaker 1: Don't drop that camera: you don't want to get sand in it. And keep it away from the water: if it gets saltwater in it, it'll never work again. And don't leave it lying around in the hot sun. And try not to get any suncream on it.
Speaker 2: Oh dear, perhaps I should just take it back to the hotel.
7. This is the minibar, and here's the menu and price list. There's a safe in the wardrobe, but we recommend that you leave extremely valuable items in one of the safety deposit boxes at reception. 10. (On the phone)
Speaker 1: Would you mind making a little less noise, please? It is rather late and the other guests are complaining that they can't sleep.
Speaker 2: Oh, I'm sorry. Of course we'll keep the noise down.
Speaker 1: Thank you sir.
11. Speaker 1: Do you allow children in here?
Speaker 2: Yes, until seven o'clock. After that, there's a special family room at the back.
Speaker 1: And do you have a no smoking section?
Speaker 2: Yes, the family room is no smoking. And we don't allow it at the bar.
12. Good morning ladies and gentlemen. I'm your captain John Grindon, and together with my first officer Tim Rogers I'll be taking you on the first leg of this flight to Wellington. We're currently waiting for clearance for the tower, and despite a slight delay we won't miss our slot.
13. Speaker 1: Excuse me, what are all of these extra charges on my bill for?
Speaker 2: That first one is a $5 cover charge, the second one is a 15% service charge and the third one is an 18% VAT charge.
Speaker 1: And the fourth one?
Speaker 2: That's a special $10 charge for the spoon you put in your pocket earlier.
14. Could I ask everyone to stay together and not to wander off? It can get very busy here at this time of the day. If anyone gets separated from the group, go and wait by the cathedral entrance and I'll come to look for you. We've got a busy itinerary today, so let's get started.
15. You have a choice of two crossings. There's a normal roll-on-roll-off service at nine o'clock, and a hovercraft service at ten o'clock. The hovercraft is more expensive, but it's much quicker.
16. Speaker 1: Could you put the meter on please?
Speaker 2: I'm sorry, it's broken. It doesn't work.
Speaker 1: In that case, I want you to stop and let me out.
Speaker 2: Oh, I've just remembered. It does work. I had it fixed this morning. Silly me.
17. Speaker 1: Please put that back into the display case, madam. We don't allow visitors to touch the exhibits.
Speaker 2: But it's so beautiful. Whoops, butter fingers, I've dropped it!
Speaker 1: Oh no! That's a Chin Dynasty vase. It's over fifteen hundred years old.
Speaker 2: Oh well, at least it wasn't new.
18. Speaker 1: This is a terrible seat. I can't see the stage very well from here.
Speaker 2: Well, why don't you ask to change before the curtain goes up?
Speaker 1: It's already going up. I'll have to wait for the interval now.
Speaker 3: Shhhh! It's starting.
19. This place is a fleapit. The air-conditioning doesn't work, I can't open the balcony door, there's a horrible smell coming from the plumbing, the walls are paper-thin, the mattress is lumpy, the sheets are damp, the pillow has mould growing on it and there's a dead cockroach in the wardrobe.

* Choose three or four organisations from this exercise that you are familiar with, and write a brief description of what they do, how they function, who benefits from them, their role in international travel and tourism, etc. Alternatively, choose some organisations from your own country or region, and describe them.

Abbreviations 2 (pages 3 + 4)

1. ETA: estimated time of arrival 2. F & B: food and beverage 3. PNR: passenger name record 4. FAA: Federal Aviation Administration 5. CCTV: closed-circuit television 6. RTW: round the world 7. CSQ: customer survey questionnaire 8. HAG: have-a-go (an idiomatic expression) 9. BYO: bring your own (customers are allowed to bring their own alcohol to a restaurant - either offered as a cost-saving incentive for the customer, or used when a restaurant doesn't have a licence to sell alcohol. The fee a restaurant charges the customer for opening the bottle is called corkage) 10. ETD: estimated time of departure 11. LRV: light refreshment voucher 12. CRS: computer reservation system (also known as central reservation system) 13. APEX: Advance Purchase Excursion (an APEX fare is an especially cheap air fare which must be booked a certain time before the date of departure - usually 1 - 4 weeks - and allows a stay of a certain length - usually more than one week and less than six) 14. B & B: bed and breakfast 15. POS: point of sale 16. OW: one way (also called a single in British English) / RT: round trip (also called a return in British English) 17. PRO: Public Relations Officer 18. RRP: recommended retail price 19. ASAP: as soon as possible (also written a.s.a.p.) 20. Accommodation types and tariffs (pages 6 + 7)

Exercise 1: (these are the most appropriate answers)

1. villa
2. chalet
3. apartment
4. guest house (also called a bed and breakfast, or B and B: see note after Exercise 3)
5. boutique hotel (these are usually small-to-medium size hotels, very modern, very fashionable, in interesting buildings, and with excellent service)
6. motel (sometimes called a motor hotel, motor inn or travel hotel)
7. hotel garni
8. hostel (sometimes called a youth hostel)
9. commercial hotel (sometimes called a transit hotel)
10. apartment hotel
11. luxury hotel
12. tourist hotel

Many countries have accommodation for travellers and tourists that is unique or special to that country. For example, Gasthaus or Gasthof in Germany, parador in Spain, pousada in Portugal, pension in France, ryokan in Japan, rest house or dormhouse in India, etc.

Exercise 2:

1. king size
2. suite (varieties of these include a junior suite, a honeymoon suite, a presidential suite, etc)
3. bunk bed (sometimes just called a bunk)
4. twin (a room with three small beds is called a triple)
5. single
6. sofa bed
7. Murphy (a trade name. Other types of bed which can be stored during the day to create extra room include rollaways and Z-beds)
8. double
9. dormitory
10. en suite
11. studio room
12. family room

Exercise 3:

A (You pay for the room only):

European plan (EP) self-catering (SC) (this expression is usually used when travellers stay in villas, chalets, apartment hotels or self-contained accommodation on resorts. The accommodation in these places usually includes cooking facilities, with plates, cups, cutlery, etc provided by the owners)

B (you pay for the room and breakfast)

Bed and breakfast (often abbreviated to BB or B and B)* Bermuda Plan (BP) (this includes a full English or American breakfast, which consists - among other things - of cereal, bacon or ham, eggs, toast or waffles with tea or coffee)

Continental Plan (CP) (this includes a Continental breakfast of bread, croissants, pastries, etc, with coffee)

C (you pay for the room and two meals)

Demi pension half board (HB) Modified American Plan (MAP)

D (you pay for the room and three meals)

American plan (AP) bed and board full board (FB) en pension

E (you pay for the room, all meals and snacks, and drinks)

all-inclusive (AI) (specific to package holidays in hotels or resorts. All-inclusive holidays also include flights, transfers, taxes, etc)

* In the United Kingdom and North America, Bed and Breakfast also refers to a private house which provides accommodation and breakfast for travellers and tourists. They are very popular, mainly because they can often be found in places which don't have larger hotels, and also because they are considerably cheaper than staying in hotels.

If customers book a hotel room during the busy season or peak period, they usually have to pay the rack rate (the advertised price for the room), but if they book in advance or out of season (when the hotel is quieter), they may get a discount (and therefore pay less).

When hotel charges are calculated on the basis of two people sharing a room, a single person travelling as part of a group might be required to pay a single room supplement for single occupancy. This is an extra charge on top of what he is already paying. For example, if two people sharing a room pay $40 each, then one person using a similar room might pay $50 (= $40 + a single room supplement of $10).

✱ Think of the accommodation you have stayed in when you have travelled on holiday or on business. What sort of accommodation was it? What sort of rooms did it have? What tariffs could you choose to pay? Write a brief description of three or four places you have stayed in.

Note: accommodation cannot be plural in British English, but it can be plural (accommodations) in American English.

Airline terminology (pages 8 + 9)

Across:

2. reissue (this can also be a noun: a reissue) (alternatively, if the route remains the same, a ticket can be revalidated so that it can be used on another date: a sticker is attached to the original ticket to indicate this)
7. bumping (this usually happens when an airline has overbooked)
9. carrier
11. stopover (passengers on a stopover usually spend a day or two in the stopover city)
14. published (a carrier's version of an RRP - a recommended retail price)
15. first (a fare code is also called a booking code)
17. compensation
18. sharing
20. cancellation (sometimes called a cancellation penalty)
21. electronic (also known as e-tickets. The piece of paper passengers receive via their email when they book a flight is a receipt, and not the actual ticket for the flight)
25. transferable
26. locator
29. club
31. connecting
32. penalty (and if a passenger cancels his booking, he won't receive all of his money back)
33. direct (note that a direct flight is not the same as a non-stop flight. Direct flight passengers may or may not be allowed off the aircraft during the first landing)

Down:

1. leg (sometimes also called a segment) 3. standby 4. layover (a layover often involves waiting at an airport overnight for a connecting flight) 5. coach 6. business 8. non-stop 10. overbooking 12. allowance 13. peak 16. availability (note that availability refers only to seats at a certain price, and does not indicate the total number of free seats on the flight) 19. endorsable 21. economy (note that there are lots of other class codes, depending on how much the passenger has paid, whether the ticket is refundable or transferable, etc. These vary from airline to airline) 22. connection 23. show 24. promotional 27. capacity (the number of capacity-controlled fares may be increased if seats sell slowly, or decreased if they sell quickly) 28. confirmed 30. circle

✱ Look at the expressions in the exercise, and the answers and other information above, then close your book and try to write down as many of the words and expressions as you can remember. Then look at each word / expression you have written down and try to explain what it means.

At the airport (pages 10 + 11)

1. transit (expressions with transit include: transit lounge; transit visa; to be in transit) 2. terminal (also called a terminal building. Note that an air terminal is a building in a town where passengers meet to be taken by bus or train to an airport outside town) 3. disembark 4. arrivals (also: arrivals hall, arrivals lounge) 5. Gate 6. security 7. charter (also a verb: to charter. Aircraft are often chartered by several tour companies in a split charter arrangement. If these flights are regular over a fixed period of time they are called series charters. When just one tour company uses the aircraft over a fixed period of time, this is called a time charter. If an aircraft is chartered for one flight only, this is called an ad hoc charter) 8. Bagtrack 9. domestic (the opposite is international. Many airports have domestic terminals for flights within the country) 10. slots 11. landing 12. checked (also called hold baggage. The baggage that a passenger takes onto the aircraft himself is called hand baggage or unchecked baggage) 13. boarding 14. runway (before it reaches the runway the aircraft moves along a taxiway. The verb is to taxi) 15. duty (note that passengers flying between European Union countries cannot buy duty free products, but they can buy tax free products) 16. apron (also called a stand) 17. control 18. clearance 19. airbridge (when passengers take a bus to the aircraft and board using steps, this is called a remote stand) 20. Passengers' 21. Federal (in the USA. The British equivalent is the CAA: the Civil Aviation Authority) 22. excess (this is also used to describe the money passengers have to pay to take this baggage on the aircraft: 'I had to pay almost £200 excess baggage.') 23. carousel 24. airside (the area before security, etc, is called the landside) 25. Transport (an organisation which regulates international air travel) 26. holding (this is an area between the apron and the runway) 27. claim (also called reclaim) 28. codes

The words in the shaded vertical strip are: *Immigration control and customs.

Immigration control* is also called passport control.

At the hotel (page 12)

1. business centre (or conference centre) / ADSL (= asymmetric digital subscriber line) connection (or wireless connection) / tea and coffee making facilities (also found in some hotel rooms) 2. room service (which provides food and drink) / housekeeping (which is responsible for cleaning the rooms, running the hotel laundry, etc) 3. airport transfer (usually by minibus or limo (= limousine)) 4. rack rate / reservation (the verb is to reserve. We also say to book or make a booking) / vacancies 5. check-out time 6. honeymoon suite / Presidential suite 7. reception / check in / registration card (the verb is to register) / key card / lift (elevator = AmE) 8. minibar / tariff (we also say price list) / safe (or safety deposit box) / direct-dial telephone / balcony / pay-TV 9. bar / restaurant / (swimming) pool / residents / non-residents

Basic foods (pages 13 + 14)

Meat and poultry: bacon / beef / chicken / duck / goose / hare / lamb / mutton / pheasant / pigeon / pork / rabbit / veal / venison

Fish and seafood: cod / crab / crayfish / haddock / herring / lobster / mussel / oyster / plaice / prawn / scallop / salmon / trout / tuna

Vegetables: artichoke / asparagus / aubergine (also called eggplant) / broccoli / cabbage / carrot / cauliflower / courgette / cucumber / lettuce / marrow / mushroom / onion / peas / pepper (also called a capsicum, bell pepper, or red / green / yellow pepper) / pumpkin / sweetcorn / turnip

Note that some of the foods classified under vegetables above are technically fruits, bulbs or squashes, so vegetable is used here as a general term to describe how they are normally prepared and / or eaten.

Fruits: apricot / cherry / gooseberry / grape / kiwi (also called kiwifruit or Chinese gooseberry) / lime / lychee / mango / nectarine / plum / pear / papaya (also called pawpaw) / pineapple / strawberry / watermelon

Herbs and spices: chilli (also spelt chile) / cinnamon / coriander (called cilantro in AmE) / cumin / garlic / ginger / nutmeg / oregano / pepper / paprika / parsley / rosemary / saffron / sage / turmeric / thyme

Other basic foods: beans / bread / cereal / cheese / cream / eggs / lentils / margarine / noodles / oil / olives / pasta / rice / yoghurt

✱ Can you add more foods to the categories in this exercise? Which of the basic foods in this exercise are used a lot in your country's cooking? Are there any foods in the exercise that are not commonly used in your country?

British and American English (page 15)

1. angry = mad 2. cinema = theater (or movie theater) film = movies 3. porter = bellhop (or bellboy) anywhere = anyplace 4. taxi = cab 5. sweets = candy (or candies) biscuits = cookies crisps = chips (or potato chips) ill = sick 6. ground = first first = second lift = elevator 7. holiday = vacation autumn = fall 8. chemist = drugstore shop = store trousers = pants 9. bill = check 10. note = bill 10. single = one-way return = round-trip 11. car = automobile crossroads = intersection roundabout = traffic circle lights = signal flyover = overpass motorway = freeway puncture = flat diversion = detour petrol = gas 12. underground = subway pavement = sidewalk subway = underpass

Note that there are several words which can have different meanings in British English and American English. For example, in British English, chips are fried strips of potato which are eaten hot; in the USA chips are fried slices of potato eaten cold out of a bag (hot fried strips of potato in the USA are called fries). Some other examples include: bill, mad, biscuit (the American word for a scone), first / second / third (etc) floor, holiday (a public day of celebration in the USA, e.g., Thanksgiving, Christmas, Presidents' Day), pants, gas, subway.

Also note that there are some spelling differences. These include:

Words which end in -gue in British English only end with -g in American English (dialogue = dialog, catalogue = catalog, etc)

Words which end with -re in British English end with -er in American English (theatre = theater, centre = center, etc)

British-English words which use a double l in unstressed syllables only use a single l in American English (traveller = traveler, levelling = leveling, etc)

Words which end in -our in British English only end with -or in American English (colour = color, flavour = flavor, etc)

Words which end with -ise or -ize in British-English can only end in -ize in American-English (realise / realize = realize only, etc)

Other vocabulary differences include:

aeroplane (BrE) = airplane (AmE) caravan (BrE) = trailer (AmE) flat (BrE) = apartment (AmE) grilled (BrE) = broiled (AmE) nappy (BrE) = diaper (AmE) post (BrE) = mail (AmE) postcode (BrE) = zip code (AmE) pub (BrE) = bar (AmE) public toilet (BrE) = restroom (AmE) rubbish (BrE) = trash (AmE) torch (BrE) = flashlight (AmE)

British people usually understand American-English words, but Americans do not always understand British-English words. People in Australia and New Zealand tend to use British-English rather than American-English words.

✱ Imagine a conversation between a British person and a North American. The British person uses British-English words, and the American tries to work out what he means. Write your conversation. For example:
British person: Where can I find the lift?
American: The lift. What's that?
British person: You know, the box that can take me to the top floor of this building.
American: Oh, you mean the elevator. Etc...

Currencies (pages 16 + 17)

Exercise 1:

1. Singapore Dollar / Singapore 2. Baht / Thailand 3. Kuwait Dinar / Kuwait 4. Indian Rupee / India
5. Swiss Franc / Switzerland 6. Yuan / China 7. Pound Sterling / United Kingdom (£) 8. Rouble / Russia
9. Dong / Vietnam 10. Bolivar / Venezuela 11. Hong Kong Dollar / Hong Kong 12. Cyprus Pound / Cyprus*
13. Won / Republic of Korea (usually referred to as South Korea) 14. US Dollar / United States of America (US$)
15. Chilean Peso / Chile 16. Iranian Rial / Iran 17. Egyptian Pound / Egypt 18. Yen / Japan (¥) 19. Saudi Arabian Riyal / Saudi Arabia 20. Australian Dollar / Australia 21. UAE Dirham / United Arab Emirates 22. Real / Brazil
23. Czech Koruna / Czech Republic 24. Jordanian Dinar / Jordan 25. Maltese Lira / Malta

* The Cyprus Pound is used in the southern part of the (currently) divided island. North Cyprus uses the Turkish Lira (TRL).

 The Won is the name of the currency used in both South Korea and North Korea (known formally as the Democratic People's Republic of Korea). The currency code for the North Korean Won is KPW.

Note that some countries (especially those with 'soft' currencies) use or accept more than one currency. Cuba, for example, uses three currencies: the Cuban Peso, the Convertible Peso (1 Peso = US$1) and the US Dollar.

Exercise 2:

1. Ecuador 2. Israel 3. Estonia 4. South Africa 5. Lithuania 6. Latvia 7. Slovenia 8. Romania
9. Pakistan (the Pakistani Rupee) 10. Peru 11. Bangladesh 12. Nicaragua 13. Ukraine 14. Indonesia
15. Malaysia

Exercise 3: (these countries, territories, etc, were all using the Euro in March 2005):

Austria, Belgium, Finland, France, French Guiana, Guadeloupe, Martinique, Mayotte, Monaco, Réunion, St Pierre,

ANSWERS (cont.)

Miquelon, Germany, Greece, Irish Republic, Italy, San Marino, Luxembourg, Netherlands, Portugal, Spain, Andorra, Spanish North Africa.

Euro is sometimes written euro.

✱ Think of 10 essential items (eg milk, petrol, etc), and 10 luxury items (e.g., DVD player, a meal in a nice restaurant, etc). Make a list of these, then write down the prices you might expect to pay for them in your country or city. If you are using this book in a class with other students from other countries, make your list of items together as a class, then write down the prices individually, and finally compare your prices with the others in your class. Is there a big difference between prices for the same items?

Documents and paperwork (pages 18 + 19)

1. transit visa 2. landing card 3. ticket (round-trip = return in British English. A ticket that is valid for one direction only is called a one-way ticket in American English and a single in British English) 4. boarding pass (also called a boarding card) 5. hotel voucher 6. travel voucher (also called a Miscellaneous Charges Order, or MCO) 7. Form E111 8. travel insurance 9. passport / application form (you can fill in, fill out or complete an application form) 10. flight coupon 11. rental agreement / driving licence 12. ID (identity) card 13. work permit (also called an employment permit, or - in the USA - a green card. In Britain, a green card is an insurance certificate to prove that a car is insured for travel abroad) 14. certificate of airworthiness / certificate of seaworthiness 15. clearance certificate 16. vaccination certificate / health declaration form 17. Property Irregularity Report (PIR) / baggage check 18. food hygiene certificate 19. Customer Satisfaction Questionnaire (CSQ) 20. claim form 21. receipt 22. docket 23. revalidation sticker 24. multiple entry visa 25. exit visa

Others include:

Bill of exchange / bill of lading / Certificate of origin / certificate of registration / e-ticket / food voucher / hotel licence / medical certificate

Employment (page 20)

1. employers 2. employees 3. salaries (a salary is usually paid monthly by cheque or direct payment to the employee's bank account. A wage is usually paid daily or weekly, often in cash. Wages are usually paid for temporary and / or unskilled or semi-skilled work) 4. minimum wage 5. rewards 6. benefits (a job usually offers a rewards package, or a rewards and benefits package, to its employees: this is what the employee receives in return for working for the company, and includes the salary, also formally called the remuneration) 7. leave (a formal word for holiday) 8. equal opportunities (called affirmative recruitment in the USA) 9. discrimination 10. work permit (also called a work visa. In the USA it is called a green card) 11. full-time 12. part-time 13. contract 14. duties 15. fixed (= a fixed-term contract) 16. open-ended (it has no fixed finishing period. Some contracts are also permanent.) 17. casual (casual work is usually unskilled or semi-skilled) 18. on call (= available for work) 19. report (answer to = less formal) 20. seasonal 21. peak 22. permanent 23. front-of-house 24. shift 25. morning shift 26. afternoon shift 27. night shift (also informally called the graveyard shift. Evening shifts are sometimes referred to as the twilight shift) 28. Back-of-house 29. flexitime (= flexible working time) 30. core-time (most flexitime systems have some core-time, where employees have to be at work) 31. split-shift (also informally called a bookend shift) 32. allowed time (= free time) 33. break 34. overtime 35. double time (when the employee receives twice his / her usual payment) 36. short-handed (we also say under-staffed) 37. application 38. interview 39. personnel 40. experience

Environmental and conservation issues (pages 21 + 22)

Exercise 1:

1. mass 2. degradation 3. resources 4. depleted 5. deforestation 6. erosion 7. wildlife 8. habitats 9. pollution 10. fossil fuels 11. depletion 12. ozone layer 13. acid rain 14. global warming 15. waste 16. natural 17. overcrowded 18. ecosystems 19. impact 20. audits 21. World Heritage 22. biosphere reserves 23. Environmentally Sensitive 24. Special Protection 25. Blue Flag 26. Green Globe 27. energy management 28. Greenpeace 29. ecotourism 30 / 31. sustainable / responsible (in either order)

Exercise 2:

1. recycled 2. subsidise 3. endangered 4. damage 5. protect 6. Earth 7. Kyoto 8. organic 9. genetically (genetically modified is often abbreviated to GM) 10. conserve ✱ Imagine that you work for a travel company that is concerned about the negative impact that tourism has on the environment. What advice would you give customers using your services so that they adopt a 'greener' and more responsible way of travelling?

Food issues (pages 23 + 24)

Exercise 1:

1. vegetarian / vegan 2. health / moral / religion 3. allergic / allergy / anaphylactic (the most common allergy-inducing foods include strawberries, eggs, milk, cereals, peas, nuts and shellfish) 4. intolerant / intolerance (a food intolerance is similar to an allergy, but not as severe) 5. analysis / control / hygiene (the adjective is hygienic. The opposite of hygienic is unhygienic / environmental (abbreviated to EHO) 6. steaming / minerals / vitamins / frying (frying expressions include shallow frying, deep frying, stir frying, griddle frying. The adjective is fried) / boiling / roasting (Meat and some vegetables can be roasted. Bread and cakes are baked) / grilling 7. halal / kosher 8. rare / medium / medium-rare / well-done / raw / blue (food which is not cooked enough is undercooked, food which is cooked too much is overcooked. Food which has been overcooked so that it has gone black is burnt) 9. organic / free-range / additives (monosodium glutamate is abbreviated to MSG) / E-numbers* 10. diet / cut down on / give up / calories / fibre / fat (other food properties include: protein, calcium, carbohydrates, cholesterol)

Exercise 2:

1. contaminated / bacteria / Salmonella / food poisoning (Escherichia coli is often abbreviated to E. Coli) 2. use-by date / stale / mould (the adjective is mouldy) 3. sell-by date (some foods also have a best-before date, which means that they can be consumed after that date, but might not be so good) 4. sour / gone off 5. rotten 6. rancid 7. undercooked

* A lot of people also try to avoid genetically modified (GM) foods because they think they might be unsafe.

 Other words describing the preparation of food include:

blanch / braise / caramelize / carve / chill / chop / dice / flambé / flavour / fricassee / garnish / grate / grind / liquidize / marinade / mix / parboil / peel / poach / sauté / season / simmer / slice / stir / strain / stuff / warm

Geography and geographical features (pages 25 + 26)

A.

1. city county country continent (tributary does not belong here)
2. footpath track lane road (peak does not belong here)
3. hillock hill mountain range (=group of mountains) (shore does not belong here)
4. tree copse wood forest (beach does not belong here)
5. pond lake sea ocean (cape does not belong here)
6. hollow gorge valley plain (waterfall does not belong here)
7. inlet cove bay gulf (ridge does not belong here)
8. brook stream river estuary (cliff does not belong here)

B.

Geographical features associated with water and the sea:

coast peninsula shore beach cape source coastline tributary waterfall mouth cliff (coral) reef tide wave

Geographical features associated with land, hills and mountains:

mountainous ridge cliff summit glacier plateau peak highlands desert

Words associated with agriculture and rural land:

depopulation fertile under-developed vegetation irrigation

Words associated with towns and cities:

urban sprawl densely-populated industrialised conurbation overcrowding pollution capital congestion cosmopolitan

C.

1. capital
2. densely-populated
3. industrialised
4. urban sprawl
5. city
6. irrigation
7. source
8. peaks
9. range
10. depopulation
11. Valley
12. waterfalls
13. streams
14. lane
15. track
16. Ocean
17. cape / peninsula
18. hills
19. plain
20. mouth
21. fertile
22. waves
23. shore / beach
24. country

Specific geographical and geo-political names commonly used in the travel and tourism industry include:

The Amazon / the Americas (North America / South America / Latin America) / the Arctic / Antarctica / the Balkans / the Baltic States / Benelux / the Caribbean / the Near East / the Middle East / the Far East / the Gulf States / the Pacific Rim / Scandinavia / the West Indies / the South Pacific / the United Kingdom / the British isles / Asia / South Asia / South-East Asia / Australasia / the Antipodes / Europe / Africa

✱ Imagine that a visitor to your country or region has asked you to describe it to them before they arrive so that they know what to expect. Use the key vocabulary from the exercises to write a description.

Holiday activities and equipment (pages 27 + 28)

Exercise 1:

1. sightseeing 2. bungee jumping 3. fishing / deep-sea fishing 4. swimming (when we use a mask and a snorkel to see underwater, we often call this snorkelling) 5. sunbathing (flip-flops = British English; thongs = American English) 6. scuba diving (scuba = self-contained underwater breathing apparatus. PADI = Professional Association of Diving Instructors. Buddy is an informal word for a friend or partner) 7. jeep safari (RV = recreational vehicle. Also called an SUV = sport utility vehicle) 8. walking / hiking (hiking tends to involve walking on rough ground, e.g., in mountains or forests, and over longer distances. Trekking can also be used for very long hikes that last a few days or longer. Hiking and trekking are known as tramping in New Zealand) 9. tennis 10. golf 11. rock or mountain climbing 12. sailing 13. skiing (the speaker has forgotten to mention his skis) 14. cycling (when this is done on rough ground, we often call it mountain biking) 15. eating out 16. clubbing (the early hours = very late at night / very early in the morning)

17. photography (SLR = single lens reflex, a type of camera. Point-and-shoot describes any camera which is very easy to use)

Note that the verb which precedes activities ending with -ing is go (I'm going skiing this winter, Last year we went scuba diving in the Red Sea, Let's go surfing now). Other sports use the verb play (Do you play golf? We're going to play volleyball.)

Exercise 2:

1. goggles 2. helmet 3. sandals (or flip flops, if they are made of rubber) 4. suncream (suncream can be low factor or high factor. If it is high factor, it provides your skin with more protection) 5. waterproofs (waterproof is the adjective: a waterproof coat) 6. flippers 7. boots 8. tackle 9. life jacket (also called a life preserver in American English) 10. rubber ring (compare this with a lifebelt, which is carried on ships and boats and used in emergencies: There weren't enough lifebelts for everyone on the boat. A lifebelt is also called a life preserver in American English) 11. walkie-talkie 12. wetsuit 13. gloves 14. a map (an atlas is a book of maps)

• Look at the activities which weren't described, and make a list of the equipment, etc, that is needed for each one. Can you think of any other holiday activities, and the equipment you would need to do them?

Idioms 1 (pages 29 + 30)

1. B 2. A (derived from the expression road rage, where drivers suddenly get angry because of the way other people behave on the road) 3. C 4. C 5. A (this is a derogatory expression. We also say tourist enclaves, which is less derogatory) 6. C 7. B (if a place is very dirty, we can describe it as a pigsty) 8. 42. Korean 43. Spanish 44. Sudanese 45. Swedish 46. Swiss 47. Syrian 48. Thai 49. Turkish 50. Ukrainian
51. British* 52. American 53. Venezuelan 54. Vietnamese 55. Yemeni 56. Zimbabwean

* The United Kingdom consists of four 'countries': England, Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland. A lot of people like to proclaim their national individuality by calling themselves English, Welsh, Scottish or Irish instead of British. Great Britain is the name given to England, Scotland and Wales but not Northern Ireland. The British Isles is a geographical name for the region that includes Great Britain, Northern Ireland and the Republic of Ireland.

Note that the nationality for Scotland is Scottish, and not Scotch (which is the name given to the drink). A person who comes from Scotland is a Scot.

✱ What do you know about the countries in this exercise? Do you know the names of their capital or principal cities, the language(s) spoken, principal religion(s), well-known geographical features, famous sights, what their economy is based on, etc? Choose some of these countries and write a brief paragraph about each one.

On the road (pages 38 + 39)

1. motorway / freeway or expressway (expressways usually run through or around cities)
2. toll road / turnpike (a bridge that you have to pay to cross is called a toll bridge)
3. ring road (also called a by-pass)
4. scenic route
5. bonnet = hood / boot = trunk / diversion = detour / dual carriageway = divided highway / flyover = overpass / indicator = turn signal / junction = intersection (a junction where four roads meet is called a crossroads in British English) / main road = highway / pavement (for pedestrians) = sidewalk / petrol = gas / puncture = flat / roundabout = traffic circle / subway (for pedestrians to walk under a road) = underpass / taxi = cab / traffic lights = traffic signal / tyre = tire / verge = shoulder (in Britain, the emergency stopping lane on a motorway is called the hard shoulder) / windscreen = windshield / wing = fender
6. licence / insurance / road tax (People who are learning to drive have a provisional driving licence, people who have passed their test have a full driving licence. Drivers put a tax disc on the windscreen of their car to show that they have paid road tax. There are two kinds of insurance: third party and (fully) comprehensive.) / green card
7. A = saloon (called a sedan in AmE) / B = pick-up truck / C = motorcycle (also called a motorbike) / D = hatchback / E = city car / F = estate (called a station wagon in AmE) / G = MPV (multi-purpose vehicle, also called a people carrier, and known as a minivan in AmE) / H = scooter / I = sports car (a sports car with an open top is often called a roadster)

/ J = 4x4 (pronounced four by four. Called an SUV - sport utility vehicle - in AmE) / K = convertible (also called a cabriolet or soft top) / L = coach (a coach is also a passenger wagon on a train, for example, a sleeping coach)

Note that several words used for ships are also used for aircraft (for example, port, starboard, fore, aft, knots, etc)

Exercise 3:

1. marina / berths (berth is also a verb: to berth) 2. cabin / berths (= beds) / outside cabin / portholes 3. roll-on-roll-off (ro-ro for short) 4. Chamber / Federation / Maritime 5. embark / disembark 6. seasickness (the adjective is seasick)
7. crossings 8. convenience

Positive or negative? (page 42)

My hotel room was:

☺: airy bright charming clean comfortable comfy (a colloquial short form of comfortable) cosy homely huge luxurious quiet roomy spacious spotless sumptuous well-kept well-maintained

☹: basic (this word is not always negative: cheaper hotels and hostels often advertise their rooms as being basic, but this does not necessarily mean that the room is uncomfortable, small, etc) boiling claustrophobic cramped damp dark dingy dirty disgusting draughty filthy freezing horrible icy noisy pokey pretentious scruffy seedy smelly spartan (= very basic) squalid tiny uncomfortable

The hotel food was:

☺: delicious different (although this word could also be negative) done to a turn (= perfectly cooked) excellent filling healthy lovely mouth-watering perfect scrumptious (an informal word) succulent (usually used to describe a piece of meat or fish) sumptuous (usually used to describe a large meal with lots of different things to eat) tasty wonderful yummy (an informal word, often used by children)

☹: awful bland boring disgusting fatty greasy horrible inedible indifferent nondescript oily overcooked overpriced (= too expensive) revolting repetitive rubbery tasteless unappetising undercooked uneatable unhealthy vile yucky (an informal word, often used by children)

The hotel staff were:

☺: affable amiable approachable attentive considerate courteous discreet efficient genial helpful kind knowledgeable lovely pleasant polite smart (this word refers to their physical appearance: clothes, hair, etc) warm welcoming well-mannered

☹: aggressive discourteous impolite inattentive indifferent inefficient insolent lazy off-hand officious rude scruffy (this word refers to their physical appearance: clothes, hair, etc) slack surly unapproachable unhelpful unpleasant

The tour we went on was:

☺: amazing educational fascinating interesting intriguing riveting stimulating

☹: boring dull mind-numbing monotonous soul-destroying stultifying tedious

The beach was:

⊕: beautiful lovely picturesque stunning

⊖: crowded dirty heaving (= very crowded) overcrowded polluted rocky stony (rocky and stony are usually, but not always, negative when used to describe beaches) windswept

Note that many of the adjectives in this exercise can be used to describe more than one thing. For example, a hotel room can be well-maintained, and so can a beach.

✱ Think of a holiday or a business trip you have been on recently. Describe your hotel room, the food you ate and the staff in the hotel. Did you go on any trips or excursions? What were they like? Try to describe other aspects of the trip (for example, your flight, the people you met, the places you visited, etc)

1. from / to / at / on / during (or in) / at / on 2. by / from / to / on 3. at / at / from / through / in 4. into / in / for / in (or at) 5. on / by (or at) / outside (or at) / into (or inside or around) / for (or on) 6. at (or in) / by (or near) / from (or to) / to 7. with / with / of 8. to / with / for / since 9. with / for / to 10. to / in / in / at / with 11. for / to / for 12. for / in / of / to 13. as / like / like / like 14. on / for / in 15. from / on / of / in 16. over (or around) / on / to / in

Restaurants and bars (pages 44 + 45)

Wok and Roll = Chinese takeaway Curry in a Hurry = Indian restaurant Wetback's = Tex-Mex restaurant Frank's Plaice = fish and chip shop (usually these are takeaway outlets, but some provide seating for their customers) The Big Munch = fast food restaurant (also called a fast food outlet) Souperman = diner Bar Celona = tapas bar Alhambra = bodega Wasabi-Go! = sushi bar Tastes = food court (also called a hawker centre in some countries, e.g., Singapore) The Red Lion = pub Mamma Mia's = pizzeria Pasta Master = trattoria Aux Trois Cloches = bistro Le Poisson d'Or = relais (it could also be a brasserie) Silverthorne's = carvery Rosie Lee's = tea room Jimmy's = snack bar (also called a café or cafeteria. Other words which you might find useful include:

canteen coffee shop deli(catessen) drive-through (often a feature of fast food restaurants) family restaurant sandwich bar steakhouse wine bar ✱ Recommend some restaurants and bars in your town / city to a visitor. What sort of restaurants are they? What do they serve? Are there any dishes that you would particularly recommend? Are there any places that the visitor should avoid? Why?

Services, amenities and attractions (page 46)

1. ATM (automated teller machine. We also say cash machine or use the trade name Cashpoint) 2. bus stop 3. botanic garden 4. port 5. internet café 6. guest house 7. Mosque 8. art gallery 9. police station 10. market 11. surgery 12. optician

The words and expressions in the box are:

Cinema (theater or movie theater in AmE) art gallery park library casino airport shopping centre (mall in AmE) market amusement park (also called a theme park) stadium youth hostel nightclub police station bus stop station health club ATM restaurant port castle bank guest house (also called a bed and breakfast in Britain) zoo pub museum town hall mosque temple surgery (= the place where a doctor works) theatre sports centre taxi rank post office bar chemist (also called a pharmacy, and a drugstore in AmE) travel agency phone box (also called a public phone or pay phone) internet café optician botanic garden ice rink (also called a skating rink) dentist hospital beach

✱ What services and amenities are there in your town? What attractions are there for tourists to visit? Write a brief guide aimed at people visiting your town for the first time. Can you add any other services, amenities and attractions to the list in the box?

Travel equipment (page 47)

1. suitcase (the general word for something we use to carry things in when travelling is luggage or baggage. Other luggage / baggage types include: rucksack or backpack; holdall (see number 4); shoulder bag; suit carrier; tote bag; trunk; pilot case; briefcase. People use bum bags or money belts to carry money and other small valuables.) 2. torch (called a flashlight in AmE) 3. penknife (also called a pocket knife. If the knife features other accessories, such as scissors, a screwdriver, a corkscrew, etc, we say Swiss Army knife (this is a registered trade name)) 4. holdall 5. ticket

6. first aid 7. insurance 8. visa (types of visa include: entry visa; multiple-entry visa; tourist visa; transit visa) 9. work permit 10. passport

The word in the shaded vertical strip is toiletries.

✱ Imagine that you are going to another country for two weeks, either on business or for a holiday. Make a list of 20 items you would take with you (not including clothes). These can be a combination of necessities (e.g., passport) and luxuries (e.g., MP3 player). When you have made your list, try to reduce it to 10 items.

Travel health and safety (page 48)

1. first aid kit / fire blankets 2. altitude sickness (also called mountain sickness) 3. fire alarm 4. deep vein thrombosis (also informally called economy class syndrome. It can affect anyone who has to sit in a small or confined space for a long period of time) 5. safety announcement / safety card / emergency exit 6. motion sickness (also called travel sickness) / air sickness 7. fire doors (also called emergency exits. Buildings may also have fire escapes that people can use to get out of the building in case of a fire) 8. smoke detectors / carbon monoxide detectors 9. food poisoning 10. assembly point (on a ship this is called the muster point) 11. fire extinguishers 12. immunization (also a verb: to immunize) 13. health declaration form / contagious (a disease that can be passed from person to person is also called a communicable or infectious disease) 14. notifiable 15. upset stomach / hygiene

Some illnesses and diseases often associated with travel include:

cholera / dengue (fever) / diphtheria / hepatitis (types A, B and C) / Japanese encephalitis / malaria / rabies / tetanus / tick-borne encephalitis / typhoid / yellow fever

Travellers arriving in a country who are suspected of carrying some contagious diseases may be placed in quarantine (where they are kept away from other people to avoid spreading the disease). In many countries, all animals entering the country are placed in quarantine. (Quarantine can also be a verb, usually passive: 'All animals are quarantined for a minimum of six weeks')

✱ Write an article for a travel magazine outlining the different things that travellers should do to remain fit and healthy, and avoid illnesses, while travelling.

Two-word expressions 1 (page 49)

Exercise 1:

accredited agent boarding pass (also called boarding card) cabin crew departure tax entrance charge food poisoning general manager handling charge identity document (usually abbreviated to ID) jet lag key card landing card motion sickness no-show occupancy rate (also called room occupancy) package holiday (a package holiday that also includes food and drink in the price is often known as an all-inclusive (AI) holiday) quality control room number service charge terminal building unaccompanied baggage (opposite = accompanied baggage) valet service waiter service youth hostel

Exercise 2:

1. cabin crew 2. jet lag 3. occupancy rate 4. package holiday 5. entrance charge 6. food poisoning 7. boarding pass 8. service charge (some restaurants also add a cover charge, and will also add tax if this is not included on the menu price) 9. valet service 10. handling charge (also called commission)

Two-word expressions 2 (page 50)

1. Warsaw Convention 2. nature reserve 3. English breakfast 4. transit passenger 5. round trip 6. poste restante 7. excess fare 8. Eighth freedom 9. Gulf States 16. sleeper seat

Types of holiday (pages 51 + 52)

Note that the types of holiday mentioned in this exercise are very specific. Many holidays would include elements of several of these holiday types (e.g., people on a beach holiday might also do some sightseeing, and might be staying on an all-inclusive basis).

1. self-catering holiday (this could apply to any holiday where the price of meals is not included in the holiday. Usually abbreviated to SC in travel brochures. SC accommodation usually has cooking facilities so that guests can prepare their own meals*) 2. adventure holiday (sometimes called activity holidays, especially if the activities offered are not considered 'dangerous', e.g., canoeing, cycling, horse-riding, etc) 3. beach holiday 4. camping holiday 5. cruise 6. package holiday (people who go on package holidays are often referred to as package tourists. Those who prefer to make their own travel plans are known as independent tourists or travellers) 7. skiing holiday 8. safari 9. hiking holiday 10. all-inclusive holiday (often abbreviated to AI in travel brochures) 11. sightseeing holiday 12. sailing holiday (also called a water-sports holiday, especially if it includes other water-based activities such as water skiing, windsurfing, diving, surfing, etc) 13. environmental holiday (also called a green holiday) 14. tour 15. diving holiday (PADI = Professional Association of Diving Instructors) 16. working holiday 17. special interest holiday

* Holidays described as half-board (HB) include breakfast and dinner in the price of the holiday. Those described as full-board (FB) include lunch as well, and might also include snacks and afternoon tea. Bed and Breakfast accommodation (B and B, or BB) includes breakfast only.

Other holiday types include: backpacking holiday (A backpack is also called a rucksack. The verb is to go backpacking) caravanning holidays fly-drive holidays fly-cruise holidays fly-rail holidays weekend breaks mini-breaks ✱ Choose some of the holiday types from this activity, and write your own advertisements or holiday brochure extracts. Try to make them sound as interesting and / or exciting as possible. Alternatively, design the 'ultimate' holiday package - one that includes lots of different activities - and write an advertisement for it.

Types of tourism (page 53)

1. responsible tourism (also called green, soft or appropriate tourism: the opposite of hard or mass tourism: see number 8)* 2. outbound tourism 3. roots tourism (also called ethnic tourism) 4. heritage tourism (similar to cultural tourism) 5. health tourism 6. agricultural tourism (also called farm tourism, or agritourism) 7. business tourism 8. hard tourism (also called mass tourism. Considered a slightly derogatory term, especially as it has a negative impact on the host country) 9. inbound tourism 10. religious tourism 11. incentive tourism

The word in the shaded vertical strip is sustainable. Sustainable tourism (also called development tourism) does not deplete natural resources or damage the environment, and does not have a negative cultural impact on the host community. In some cases it will even provide long-term benefits to the host community.

* Tourism which is believed to have a beneficial effect on the natural environment is often called ecotourism.

What has gone wrong? (pages 54 + 55)

1. undercooked 2. overcharged 3. delayed 4. lost (or stolen) 5. mugged 6. double-booked 7. misinformed 8. diverted 9. short-changed 10. poisoned (the noun is food poisoning) 11. stolen 12. burnt (we can also say sunburnt. The noun is sunburn) 13. robbed (note: a person, a room or a building is robbed, and belongings - for example, money, mobile phone, camera, etc. - are stolen) 14. damaged (not broken) 15. bumped (passengers are usually bumped when an airline deliberately or accidentally overbooks a flight. A passenger who checks in for the flight after other passengers have done so risks being bumped)

Note that when we describe an action but do not want or need to say who did it, we use the passive voice (e.g., He has been mugged, She has been overcharged). All of the gapped sentences in this exercise use the passive voice.

✱ Imagine you have recently been on a trip where a lot of things went wrong for you. Write a brief description of the trip and what went wrong, using some of the vocabulary from this exercise.
For example: First of all my flight was delayed by eight hours, then my luggage was lost....

What is their job 1? (pages 56 + 57)

1. cabin crew member on an aircraft (the words air hostess and stewardess are occasionally used for female cabin crew staff, but are usually considered old-fashioned and slightly sexist) 2. tour guide 3. waiter (or possibly chef) 4. pilot 5. check-in assistant at an airport (also called ground crew staff) 6. travel agent (the name of the shop they work in is called a travel agency.
